Central Station Community Engagement and Community Policing Strategy

Central Station supports the Department's Community Policing Vision and Values and is committed to creating a safe, healthy and vibrant community. Our spirit is guided by a guardian mindset, and we recognize that our role as protectors is rooted in empathy, understanding, and mutual respect. At the heart of effective policing is a comprehensive community engagement strategy because Community Engagement leads to Community Policing which leads to effective Community Oriented Problem Solving.

Central Station works toward achieving this objective by collaborating (Initiative 1- Strategic Plan 1.0) with businesses, residents, schools, community organizations, youth-based organizations and city partnerships within our district, to collaboratively identify and problem-solve local challenges and increase safety for residents, visitors, and businesses in the community.

Education and Relationship building (Goals 2 and 4 of the Community Policing Strategic Plan) are the main-focus of our engagement events. Our events will focus on educating the community about the department, crime prevention, crime trends and problem solving. Our goal is to build trust and relationships through positive engagement outside of calls for service, furthering our effectiveness in community policing and community-oriented problem solving.

District Overview

- The Central District serves a diverse range of communities and many of San Francisco's most famous tourist destinations. Every year, more than 13 million tourists flock to Central San Francisco, an area encompassing 35 hotels, 34 consulates, and many of San Francisco's top attractions, including: Chinatown, North Beach, Fisherman's Wharf, Alcatraz Island, the Financial District, Union Square, Ferry/Embarcadero Plaza and three famous hills: Telegraph, Nob and Russian.
- The Central District is one of San Francisco's most diverse districts. The district has residents from all walks of life and hosts a large Chinese and Italian population residing in Chinatown and North Beach.
- The most significant crime trends in the Central District are property crimes. The most significant of which are auto burglaries and retail theft. Due to having several tourist destinations, the victims are often-times unaware of some of our most common crime issues. Central Station employs a diverse strategy to combat auto burglaries, such as our Park Smart educational campaign which focuses on prevention, in addition to strategic crime enforcement.

District Overview

- Central Station utilizes patrol officers to respond to most calls for service. The Central District also has foot beat officers in Union Square, Chinatown, North Beach, and Fisherman's Wharf. The diversity of San Francisco also shows in the demographics of the officers working in the district. Central Station also has numerous officers certified in a secondary language, which helps to promote crime reporting and community relationships with the public and the police. Central Station Officers speak multiple languages such as Russian, Cantonese, Mandarin, and Spanish.

 - SFPD Officers embody Stephen Covey's 7th habit, "Sharpen the Saw." After every incident, Central Station Officers routinely conduct, "debriefs," of the event. These debriefs allow the officers to speak freely in an open environment regarding ways to improve their response and critique performance.
